EWA Encourages Swift Passage of Geriatrics Workforce and Caregiver Enhancement Act, Critical Legislation for Us All as We Age

Washington, DC—The Eldercare Workforce Alliance (EWA) commends Representatives Jan Schakowsky (D—Ill), Doris Matsui (D—CA), and David B. McKinley (R—WV) for introducing the bipartisan Geriatrics Workforce and Caregiver Enhancement Act in the House of Representatives. With bipartisan support, swift passage of the bill would take a significant step toward educating and supporting a healthcare workforce empowered to improve the quality of care delivered to us all as we age.

“Our nation faces a severe and growing shortage of eldercare professionals with the skills and training to meet the unique healthcare needs of older adults,” said Amy York, Executive Director of the Eldercare Workforce Alliance. “EWA is committed to supporting the Geriatrics Workforce and Caregiver Enhancement Act because it expands the only federal geriatrics training program. That’s an investment in an eldercare workforce that can support well-coordinated, high-quality care for all older Americans.”

The bill supports two critical objectives. First, it would formally establish funding for the Geriatrics Workforce Enhancement Program (GWEP). Second, it would reestablish the Geriatric Academic Career Awards (GACAs), a previously funded program for developing clinician-educators. By supporting the GWEP and the GACAs, the Geriatric Workforce and Caregiver Enhancement Act would:

- Foster education and engagement with family caregivers by training providers who can assess and address their care needs and preferences.
- Promote interdisciplinary team-based care by transforming clinical training environments to integrate geriatrics and primary care delivery systems.
- Improve the quality of care delivered to older adults by providing education to families and caregivers on critical care challenges like Alzheimer’s disease and related dementias.
- Reach underserved and rural communities by ensuring clinician-educators are prepared to train the geriatrics workforce of today and tomorrow.
